Phantom Peak: Summer's Peak

(Season 2, 2023)

1 - DEAD RINGER - Sparks has been buying stuff from a Greymarket site and has ended up with a weird looking skull! After tracking down Datchery as the seller and a lab test with Dr Winter, you find a message from Sparks in the future warning themselves not to join the Janus 2 project - and that skull is Sparks all along

2 - RADIO KILLED THE VIDEO STAR - You find a broken JAM box and report to Cogwright who maintains such things. You find out that these boxes use rose diamant and were created by Charles Datchery. The Diamar, first people of the land, trapped souls in the diamant - causing the voices that can be heard. You tell Cogwright what you know

3 - EI8HT - Someone has lost their rank 8 badge! You check it out at the lost and found and get pointed towards Rexford. It's not theirs so you decide to try becoming a rank 8 yourself to see if that helps. In the process, you learn that the badge is holding a ghost that needs to be destroyed by dipping the badge in ink! Datchery gladly obliges.

4 - THE DIAMAR CODE - You watch the trailer for the new Hogwood film and are tasked with finding the code to a cryptex. You find an old note from Bellamy admitting to staging a death in the art hall and pointing you to the graveyard. You check the monoliths and find a code. Turns out Camcom are behind the whole thing as a marketing campaign!!

5 - UNDER REFURBISHMENT - You find Pro Furbish graffiti in the bathrooms and examine their old office for clues. After watching Furbish's video obituary, you speak to Pius who is concerned about a cult. Sparks is involved and tells you it's actually a group of people who believe Furbish will return! You find a Videomatic code on a monolith (weird cos the monoliths are ancient!) and find Furbish is behind his own cult! He's alive and building support!

6 - THE DRAMATIC QUESTION - You find an advert for Spectre and Vox, they want to investigate Jonas! But locals won't talk to him, so you as tourists are perfect. You learn from Littlefield about an upcoming museum and a Men Bason, who donated a piece of art which sends you to the electric mail. From there you talk to Pocket about the axiomatic clock and look into purple diamant - unique to Phantom Peak and wildly powerful. We must tell Spectre the truth: that Jonas found a fragment of something as a child, laden with Purple Diamant. Now he is looking for the rest, something he calls "The Gift From The Deeps." You learn that red diamant controls time, blue controls space - purple does both!

7 - LITTLEFIELD'S LITTLE PACKAGE - Littlefield has lost a package! And now they're being blackmailed! You find other victims and eventually get a message from Terrence, who didn't steal the package but has CCTV. The package seems to have grown a leg and left on its own. It was caught by Spectre who tells you it is cursed and needs to be opened by a postal worker to transfer the curse - poor Littlefield! On opening, it is was revealed as Schrodinger's Curse— a 50/50 chance for a monster in that box to be dead or to rip your face off! (Luckily, it was dead!)

8 - PLATMAN BEYOND - You ask Rexford for proof of his Platman connections, and then find out he's worried about a copy Platman! He sends you to the Summerhouse. There you start the hunt to find the Questioner, Cogwright, their nemesis who appears to have released not one, but many Platmen! You learn of an alternate Phantom Peak - Phantom City! Rexford closes the portal with Salt to keep the peak safe.

9 - KEEP YOUR FRIENDS CLOSE — Dr Winter is being mocked by a tiny hat on the platypus on the lake. He wants you to find out what Terrence is doing. He's started a scheme - Hustlepus University to train betapusses to alphapusses. You complete some tasks to join and learn the truth about the evil group Terrence is forming — and they want Winter to join! You deliver the message to Winter who accepts thanks to the offers of gifts such as teeth or Pocket's latest book.

10 - TWIRLING SHADOWS - Halloway knows of a ghost trapped in a JAM box but is finding Spectre too expensive. You find out that something is up with JAM box 2. You go to Robodoc to discuss the voices you hear. You call the old undertakers who points you to a Jonavision channel — which has theories of aliens causing the blimp crash! You find details of a secret meeting happening in the Datchery crypt and uncover the platypole in the old town is a drill, releasing souls trapped in the diamant! You disconnect the drill and tell Halloway.

SECRET TRAIL:

11 - ANGELS AND DIAMANT - Pius is worried about the Infernal Echidna and gives you a Videomatic code. You watch a video telling you there is a problem with the Jonahedron and to stop the potential damage, Rexford (AKA Platman) MUST STEAL THE COSMIC PLATYPUS EGG! (Which he does at the end of the day, saving the town again!)
