After designing your own dress Rexford shares that it's been delivered to the Autohatter - where you find the dead body of Alfonz. You persuade Datchery to agree to a temporary wedding to Pocket and agree to make a fuss when asked if anyone has objections!

It looks like Littlefield might have STOLEN Jonas's hat! You learn it was originally owned by George Blackwell who gifted it to Jonas before becoming their rival. You learn they've killed Terrence but you can't see the scene cos violence is wrong - unless it's treason - a lesson taught by Dr Winter Senior! You watch their video obituary and learn they were trying to manufacture the perfect video game mascot and they created Turbo and their team. However the experiment fails due to an existential crisis on Turbos part! You follow the trail and learn they're friends with Sparks — who you interrogate and learn that Turbo has a crush on Perigate and has been sending them quills! You go back and tell Spectre what you've learnt - looks like you're gonna need a lot of white diamant to cancel out the green!
