Phantom Peak: Burning Blimp

(Summer 2025)

You try to check out the vanishing kit in the store but it's sold out. It's made by Mr Mysterious who's advert teaches you about the Magicians Guild - so you join by showing Stickler a trick! You gain the Codex, decode the special instructions and learn KAPPA can help! Terrence has been caught in a sibling rivalry and ended up in the void! It seems the fundraising drive was a cleverly veiled attack on Pius by their own brother Brutus! Turns out Brutus moved up the church quickly cos they found an Egg of Truth - but it's a fake...made by Brutus! You report this fakery to JONACO and learn you can retrieve Terrence by typing his name into Klacky. You do so and get him sent to the Quantum Mailbox...but you did need to flatten him to make it fit! It's fine - he's immortal, the limbs will grow back!

2 - Pocket Change: Despite increased popularity ratings, Pocket needs help! It appears they been using a clone who is making them look good - and the real Pocket worries they are trying to take over! Their clone (Hot Pocket) has a new girlfriend - Lady Oinkerton - so you speak to Datchery. Turns out Hot Pocket fired Datchery and dumped Oinkerton - and they're trying to replace them! You find a videomatic and learn Pocket's clone has announced that all townsfolk must undergo "The Procedure," and they specifically mentioned Dr. Winter. You tell Winter what they want them to undergo it and learn about the Hottie Procedure - it's not really a clone, it's a distilled version of their best bits! You are tasked to destroy Hot Pocket by Winter - The Hottie Procedure could likely kill Pocket! Or at least... our Pocket. You need to find a cure fast so you head to the archives and use Klacky to research further. You see Robodoc and eventually talk to Stickler who tells you about a videomatic where you learn the secret to keeping Pocket safe - they need to drink Jonacola during The Procedure to make their personality the dominant one. You tell Pocket and save them from Hot Pocket!

3 - The Graveyard Groove: Halloway is looking for people to help hunt some hippies...they're being harassed by the Silver Children! You learn more and join their walking tour — which leads you to a video. This leads to Pius who talks about Elias Starchild. You find them...decapitated! There was a code left behind: a videomatic code. You watch and discover the real culprits are the Groovy Groovy gang. You follow info on their latest victim — a vampire called Edward Cage — and find a video from one of their survivors. You learn they shouted the word PHI — which you put into the paracryptic mirror and learn they are trying to unmask the unmaskable — tearing off faces! You tell Spectre the Groovy Gang have returned and get a scroll — The Scroll of Demonic Dismissal. You take the spell to Halloway to save them from Stephen and use the magic words: "I'd have gotten away with it if it wasn't for you meddling kids!"

4 — Sparksquatch: Sparks is looking for cryptozoology experts - so you offer your help; They're looking for PeakFoot! Via analysis of their excrement you track them to an emergency tummy box so you go to Robodoc and replicate their symptoms. This leads you to the Hall of Art where you see a PeakFoot Costume...with a label for Pocket! You ask them about being PeakFoot and find out Madame Mechanica is behind it all! There is a prophecy - so you work with Klacky to bring her back to town via RoboDoc and find out Rexford knows about it all! It appears Madame Mechanica can see all time and space and is concerned with Jonas and their plans. It appears that if you can get Sparks to take responsibility for killing PeakFoot it will cause the moth effect which will end JONACO! You persuade Sparks to do it!

5 - Unbox Me, Coward: There a new hot toy in town - The Furbo! You got to Lovehart to get yours and find out there are none left! They've been recalled - some weird things have been happening that may be hauntings! Instead you get given a Furbo Satisfaction Survey to check how the townfolk are finding theirs! As you go, you find out Egbert Simpbury has also been having issues with theirs! During their show you learn about Rexfords's fan club which you try to join by designing your own Furbo! When you do, you learn about Furbo Eggs and get given one. You find out Perigate might know more so ask and learn they're keeping them in Jonalabs storage for observation. However it appears Egbert has broken in! You rush over to catch them but find them dead by a weird snake Furbo! Watching Egbury's last message, you learn the Furbos came from a ship! You decipher the alien markings and find a message via Klacky that the Furbos are making a pilgrimage to Mount Absmore to fulfil a prophecy. Turns out the Furbos aren't attacking at all; they're witnessing the birth of the Great One! Apparently Lovehart is destined to midwife the Great One so you go to watch the event

6 - Less Miserable: The Resistance has made a musical to drum up support...you go to watch but the film is interrupted by Copper who isn't impressed by the musical - instead they're proposing Copper Karaoke. They want you to recruit goons to put an end to the musical once and for all. You find the best goon for the job - Hitchkick Harry - and send them to end the musical but they end up being killed by the Lead - who now wants you to audition. You do so for Datchery and get a part as an understudy and go and learn about A.I Marine and attempt to learn their techniques but the reviews state something is funny with them...especially their name. Turns out it's an anagram for I AM A SIREN - and Platman has previous experience. Unfortunately it didn't go to plan last time so you research and learn they kill with their song. You listen to it and get interrupted by Spectre who has trapped the siren in an old vinyl record! You take the record to Copper to help the real resistance!

You set off to find some and find that Beardy Ham, famous Actor, may have been a secret lover! They know their secrets so call to find out more - turns out Lady Oinkerton knows too and has been trying to contact the dead! You speak to Spectre and learn she tried but it didn't work - possibly cos they had the wrong name! You find a vid and apparently Todrick lost their stomach - you investigate and learn of Project Toad... Klacky had the files but they've been stolen - except one...where you learn about Jerry! You watch their video and learn their puppetisation process didn't go as planned and Sherlock Bones is also investigating them and that they're still alive!! You learn Mr Knuckles might know more so you call them at JONACO 5 star prison and learn Todrick solves their problems by puppetising people! And Hogwoods new film is a problem! You need to warn Hogwood so Todrick doesn't target them next - and calm the toad with cheers and applause!

8 - A Sweet Sacrifice: Littlefield is looking for animal lovers to join their group (PROTEC) to help fight for animal rights. They've got a note - Pigbert is in trouble! They've been trapped by JONACO but you arrive too late to free them - but learn they escaped into the Miramaze so you rush to find them before Randy from JONACO does - but it appears Pigbert got to Randy first and ate them! Spectre is investigating so you ask what they know and learn Pigbert is actually a demon! And they're planning a dark rite. You follow the rituals around town and find one at the grave of A.A.Miller, beloved children's horror story author. You watch their last tale about Boo Bear and learn the demons need the storybook to complete the ritual. Stickler had it but the demons beat you to it. You get a map to hell and watch a video to help (hosted by Terrence as part of rehab programme at JONACO 5 star prison) - Littlefield needs to eat the honey to go to hell and we need to guide them through. You assist and they destroy Boo Bears honey pot!

9 - Finger Lickin' Good: Gifford is looking for paralegal interns and you offer yourself up! They want you to retrieve an embarrassing musical...about their dad, Furbish, called "Paternal Flame" and destroy it! You reach out to the person who won a copy of it - Felicia Smith - but they've died! Apparently the musical was so cringe it killed her! You hunt it down in the archive but find it's been stolen by a Yeti! After a bit of digging you learn Stickler has it! Well..they did...someone was stolen it from them too!! You find flyers from Sergeant Sausage so you look then up and win a Salvation Dog - code to contact Furbish!! Turns out Copper has been hiding Furbish since faking their death in that Blimp Crash! and now they have turned themselves into a puppet! You need to take them to a new hiding place...Gifford's Office! You persuade Gifford to let them stay with them!

10 - Wild Card: Perigate has a locked box and wants help to get it open - they're worried it might be from their parents! It is causing jungle sounds and weird moments for Perigate so you investigate a new book by their parents - "Perigate: A Tale of Endless Disappointment" - which leads you to a film at the picture house based on the book! (It Came From Us!)
You then find a way to contact her parents and ask about the locked box...the Perigates didn't seem to know anything about the locked box; in fact, they think it was delivered by mistake. Their personal mailboy might know more so you track them down and see them caught in a giant web holding a copy of the game Jonanji! You learn more about the game and get roped into playing!! You go to Rexford to help you get started and get a starter card - which poisons you! You save yourself and find that someone else needs help in the diamines. You go and find the spot but they've been crushed by a boulder! Their last message helps you find your next stop and find a paracryptic word for the mirrors! There you learn the game is actually cursed and warps reality! The game must be finished or else Phantom Peak will become the board!! Datchery has the key so you go to retrieve it and take it to Perigate. It opens the box and you finish the game to save the town

11 - A Waste of Time: Dr Winter is hiring warriors to kill the unkillable so naturally you apply! They've been given a photo of themselves and Jonas - which is weird cos they've never met! Must be a fake? And he suspects Terrence! Turns out Winter said he would join their group for a mini fridge but has not paid their dues and has hired Gifford to represent them. You take the photo to the law office but Terrence is adamant it's not them. They're blaming Klacky! You contact them, beat them up and they look at the photo - and say it's from 10 years in the future! You find a video from the future and see Winter has send you a message via quantum mailbox to your time which you collect. On it you find a cheat code for the game Terrence made - using it revealed the future version of the doctor has sent back a video for you to watch at the Picture House! It talks of the new arm of JONACO - manifesting! Apparently the town is due to blow up and JONACO is developing a Manifestor to rip apart time. Future Winter wants you to convince present Winter to destroy the Manifestor plans to stop wasting 10 years of their time! Which you do...by referring to the "Banana Split Incident"

Secret trail: 12 — Corrections: Dr Furbish has returned, smaller and fuzzier than ever. However, there's a larger issue he's been troubled with, something untoward in Phantom Peak's mad and maddening history. You see Giffard - JONACO's Lawyer- and tell them you're here to see their dad about "correcting the record." You learn that Pius having a brother is a strange thing so you ask Pius whether they've always had a brother? They seem to think so but can't be sure - in fact they think they saw a video of someone called Mr Kim..but they are not meant to exist! You go to Lovehart to ask about Kim and learn they don't remember them! Turns out the resistance got rid of Kim but JONACO is now working on undoing PEOPLE not just things...the boat ride was first and now there's a list of targets! (Including Nethersole, Lady Oinkerton and Nick P...) You take the paperwork to Sticker and learn that The Undoing is stepping up and JONACO has tasked Sticker with memory wiping anyone who remembers stuff that should have been corrected. You get a card for your silence - and a feeling of unease for the town...
