PHANTOM PEAK: WINTERMAS (2025)

12 trail recaps · Based on season notes supplied to the Explorers Club

1 · The Bright Place

Main character: Edgar Allan Crow | Themes: Film, Storytelling, Portals

Edgar Allan Crow recruits agents to protect their films from mysterious rewrites. JONACO's frightened censor grants you access to an uncut version, where a narrator changes the story as it unfolds and leaves pages to follow. The voice belongs to Crow's brother Squawk, trapped in The Bright Place. A clue leads to Containment Cell 3, where the portal can be opened. Sherlock Bones knows how to use KLACKY to rewrite events and rescue Squawk. You send Squawk to the Undertakers and see the brothers reunited.

2 · Meet The Perigates

Main character: Perigate | Themes: Family, Disguises, Rescue

Perigate needs an actor to play their father at dinner with the Fishman. Spectre declines, but suggests Beardy Hamm. Surveillance in the Jonagraph reveals that Perigate's real parents plan something sinister for the Fishman. You locate the Fishman's containment cell and discover Platman is unavailable to help. Platbot provides another route: turn the Fishman into an actual fish and carry them out through Giffard's office. Perigate welcomes their partner home and plans a fishbowl.

3 · A Very Merry Wintermas

Main character: Copper | Themes: Marriage, Magic, Wintermas

Copper and Terence have married, but Terence vanishes while Sir Merrylegs pursues him. A severed foot and a Videomatic challenge lead you to a Gamehouse contest that you cannot win alone. Pius, the purple mage, helps you qualify as a magician. Stage magic lets you beat Merrylegs's game and save Terence. The attack was a plea for company: Merrylegs asks to spend Wintermas with the newlyweds and leaves Copper a gift. You pass on the request and save the celebration.

4 · Book, Line and Sinker

Main character: Sparks | Themes: Missing friends, Fairies, Ghosts

Sparks asks you to find the Lost Bois: Wendizla, Big Iggy and Jared from I.T. Clues at the Auto Hatter and waterfall point to Captain Book, whose crew you try to infiltrate through Perigate. But Tinkley Well has killed the captain. The captain's restless ghost reveals that the fairy is responsible for the friends' disappearance. Hogwood once belonged to the Lost Bois and offers advice, but you arrive too late to save them. To spare Sparks the truth, you say their friends have gone to Never Ever Land.

5 · You Didn't Account For This

Main character: Stickler | Themes: Espionage, Codes, University reunion

The JIA needs someone in the chair to help Stickler open a briefcase sent by their old rival, the Calculator. You guide agents Finn Diesel and Sensuality Davis through the Calculator's lair, but they are captured. Hogwood equips you to impersonate the villain, and an office documentary points you to Sparks. A monologue reveals that Stickler and the Calculator attended university together. Their yearbook supplies the briefcase combination. Inside is an invitation to a reunion, and you persuade Stickler to attend.

6 · The Priest And The Prisoner

Main character: Pius | Themes: Prison break, Siblings, Puppets

An elf delivery takes you to Pius, who wants their brother Brutus released from JONACO's five-star prison. Giffard signs the form, but the release date is sixteen months away. Terence and Copper help arrange a breakout instead. Once free, Brutus reveals a plan to humiliate Pius using an orbital puppetisation laser. Lovehart supplies the access codes. You puppetise Brutus and send them to the confessional booths for a reunion with Pius.

7 · Coffee Is For Closers

Main character: Lovehart | Themes: Sales, Robots, Competition

Lovehart is grieving Marketing Bot when JONACO announces a merger of Sales and Marketing. To win control for Marketing, you enter a sales contest and pitch Leg Day Ducks. Stickler tests your skill at spinning a story, while Egbert Simpsbury advises you on the final challenge. Salesbot wins anyway. You write new instructions for the dangerous robot, and Lovehart uploads them, reducing its intelligence below theirs. Lovehart becomes head of both departments.

8 · A Developing Situation

Main character: Pocket | Themes: Mayoral politics, Popularity, The Great Undoing

After the Lunar Festival, Pocket fears Jonas will have them Undone unless their approval rating rises above seventy percent. You deliver a fruit basket to Datchery, seek an end to the platypus strike and design a new attraction with Rexford. The deeper problem is that Pocket is undoing themself. A Jonas story suggests their escape lies in arresting Furbish. With Giffard's help you bring Furbish back from Mr Feast's space dating show, guide the rocket to Pocket's office and let the mayor make the arrest.

9 · The Man With The Bowler Hat

Main character: Dr Winter | Themes: Teleportation, Toys, Lost scientist

Someone in a bowler hat is stealing the control devices from Dr Winter's new Telebears. An obituary and a play by Hogwood identify Dr Horus, a JONACO scientist lost in a teleportation experiment. Horus contacts you through the Miramaze and asks for help returning to reality. You track down a Diamant Control Device and take it to Winter so they can save the missing doctor.

10 · Off The Rails

Main character: Datchery | Themes: Railway, Protest, Childhood memories

The Atlas Railroad Company plans a line that would demolish Datchery's General Store. A protest fails, so you take a conductor job through Rexford and submit a suggestion to save the shop. CEO Myne Bland refuses. Even a staged train crash cannot stop the project. RoboDoc suggests an object from Bland's childhood might change Bland's heart. Datchery supplies one of the toy trains their family made. The gift does stop the railway plan, but causes Myne to explode.

11 · Death Of A Mailman

Main character: Littlefield | Themes: Post, Mascots, Ghosts

As a new postal worker, you discover letters changing during delivery. One meant for Rexford leads to a video of the perfection-obsessed Mr Blizzard. Friendly the Postie, a mascot contest and Dr Winter point to a decades-old JONACO project led by Winter's grandfather. Spectre explains that Blizzard's soul needs a new puppet to escape the cycle. You create an empty puppet, giving the spirit a place to go and saving the post office.

12 · The End Is Just The Beginning · Secret trail

Main character: Furbish | Themes: Conspiracy, Rank 8, The Great Undoing

Furbish fears an imminent apocalypse called the Great Undoing. The JONACO Metaphysics Department restricts its information to Rank 8, so you try and fail to earn that rank through Perigate. Sherlock Bones points you toward a hidden Rank 8: Stickler. Stickler reveals two conditions for the Undoing to happen: Pocket must be mayor and Cogwright must be in town. A message from Jonas confirms that, after years of preparation, the plan is about to begin.
